Jim,

The attached log note (first item) answers your question about [redacted] prompt response to a request from a Washington lawyer.
The request stemmed from an item that the lawyer had read in our Daily Report.

The Director
The Central Intelligence Agency
Washington, D.C. 20505

Dear Sir:

I wish to commend one of your employees, [redacted]
[redacted] for her efficiency and courtesy.

I recently had occasion to request from [redacted]
the original Farsi text of a resolution of the Iranian Majlis.
She obtained this document with what I can only consider remarkable speed and forwarded it on to me. The document was in my hands four days after I requested it, and weeks before I expected it would arrive.

In any event, I write because I thought it worth commenting on [redacted] abilities; and I hope you will pass on to her a copy of this letter.

Sincerely,

25. LOGNOTE - Executive and Planning Staff, 4 February 1981

[ ] On 2 February I referred a call to OPA from [ ] a private attorney in Washington. [ ] wanted to know if he could obtain a copy of the original Farsi text of the item on the approval of the arbitration bill which appeared in the South Asia Daily Report of 14 January 1981. [ ] had obtained the DR item while attending a State Department briefing. [ ] called to say they had no objection to releasing this item as it will have a significant impact on the legal claims against the money, but he felt the decision to release the item should be made by D/FBIS since [ ] is a private citizen. D/FBIS granted his approval on 3 February, and a message was sent to London Bureau requesting the original Farsi text. The Farsi text was received today and mailed [ ]

REMARKS

To 3: John,

Obviously [redacted] did a smashing job. Can you tell me what we did that elicited this enthusiastic comment? My congratulations to [redacted]
